

Atlantic Research Group Names Erin Farris VP of Operations

Promoted from Senior Director of Project Management, at ARG Since 2007

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. and LONDON, July 1, 2020 -- Atlantic Research Group is pleased to announce the promotion of Erin Farris to Vice-President of Operations, from Senior Director of Project Management. Erin, who began her career with ARG in 2007 in a site support role, will be responsible for overseeing all general operations, and for project organization and delivery.

Lyle Camblos, President and COO, in making the announcement, stated: "Erin has always assisted in many different ways and has been an integral member of the team from the very beginning. Her work ethic and attention to detail, combined with her willingness to do whatever she can to help the company and her teams, has never gone unnoticed. This is a great step for Erin, and for our organization as a whole."

Erin herself added: "This role change allows me to continue to do what I think is important at ARG. I really enjoy motivating and mentoring others, as well as learning from shared ideas and experiences. It's rewarding when innovation comes to fruition and impacts others in a positive way."

Paul Bishop, CEO, said, "Erin has been part of the management team for some time now, involved in making nearly every major decision. She has also had her fingers in all individual projects when necessary. Moving forward, Erin will continue to help lead the company, and be available to project teams when needed. I join everyone here at ARG in celebrating this well-deserved news."

About ARG:

ARG is an oncology, immunology, rare and neurodegenerative disease-focused contract research organization that provides comprehensive clinical program development services ranging from pre-launch consulting to commercialization. Founded in 2004 with the vision that every project should be highly individualized and visible, ARG has experienced consistent growth across the globe, expanding our reach to include drug and device strategic consulting, clinical trial management services, and clinical data and analytic solutions. ARG is a disrupter, using first-in-class technology platforms along with relationship-driven flexibility to optimize clinical studies because we believe everyone deserves to be well.
